CIL Chargeable Development

The Community Infrastructure Levy Regulations 2010 (as amended) specify that CIL will be charged on gross internal floorspace in new development. Parts 2 and 6 of the Community Infrastructure Levy Regulations 2010 (as amended) state that the following development will be exempt from CIL charges:

- Development where the gross internal area of new build is less than 100 square metres, although this does not apply where the chargeable development will comprise one or more dwellings;
- Buildings into which people do not normally go;
- Buildings into which people go only intermittently for the purpose of inspecting or maintaining fixed plant or machinery; and
- Development where the owner of a material interest in the relevant land is a charitable institution and the development will be sued wholly (or mainly) for charitable purposes.

In addition, the Regulations also allow exemptions to be claimed for self-build housing, and residential annexes and extensions over 100 square metres (regulation 42A and 42B). Affordable housing will be eligible for relief from CIL (regulation 49).

This information is accurate at the date of publication.

Explanation of how the chargeable amount will be calculated
